

BASTIA QUARTER

The elders remember that...

...twenty years ago, in a mild summer evening, the old gun inherited from an old galley and set as guard. The alarm was not given at once and the thieves rolled it down the hill and disappeared without leaving a trace. The newspapers dealt with the fact, but all was shrouded in mystery. The elders of the quarter still remember the famous gunshots of the "Saracen" which were heard as far as...

COLLODARI QUARTER

It is said that in the Fifties...

...Collodari quarter celebrated the success of the festival during the thanksgiving dinner with an unusual In fact a procession was knocked up with an upturned table as processional chest, a beach umbrella as

Light-hearted merriments, impossible today.

1 -

2 -

3

BACK TO ENGLISH INDEX

